

Concho Writers

Network

The Concho Writers Network meets at the Concho Public Library. Join us to discuss writing about our marvelous history, poetry, blogging, novels, children's books, self-help books, research, editing and all aspects of the thrilling world of writing.

We will meet at 1:00PM on Thursday, March 29th. In addition to listening how Lynn Hummel survived writing ten children's books, we will discuss your successes, problems and ideas about writing.

For more information contact John Taylor at cn732rt@yahoo.com or the Concho Library at 928.337.2167